SUBJECT INDEX*

A

Adaptation, psychological
Living with an ostomy and short bowel syndrome: practical aspects and impact on daily life (Carlsson et al). 2001;28:96–105
The pouch acting as a mediator between "Being a Person with an Ostomy" and "Being a Professional": analysis of a pedagogical strategy (Santos and Sawaia). 2001;28:206–14
The state of ostomy care: tremendous progress, continued challenges (Doughty). 2001;28:1–2 (President's Message)
The state of the standard diversion (Colwell et al). 2001;28:6–17

Adenomatous polyposis coli
What functional outcomes and complications should be taught to the patient with ulcerative colitis or familial adenomatous polyposis who undergoes ileal pouch anal anastomosis? (Colwell and Gray). 2001;28:184–9 (Evidence-based Report Card)

Ambulatory care
Reimbursement options for WOC(ET) nurses in ambulatory care. 2001;28(1):24A–29A (Professional Practice Fact Sheet)

B

Bandages
Clean versus sterile technique when changing wound dressings (Gray and Doughty). 2001;28:125–8 (Evidence-based Report Card)
Clean versus sterile: management of chronic wounds (Wooten and Hawkins). 2001;28(5):24A–26A (Position Statement)

Beds
A medical center's experience with managing specialty bed usage (Russell et al). 2001;28:274–8

Biofeedback
Methodology of biofeedback for adults with fecal incontinence: a program of care (Norton and Chelvanayagam). 2001;28:156–68
Special delivery: a biofeedback program for fecal incontinence (Zimarro Bliss). 2001;28:169–70 (Commentary)

Body image
The pouch acting as a mediator between "Being a Person with an Ostomy" and "Being a Professional": analysis of a pedagogical strategy (Santos and Sawaia). 2001;28:206–14

C

Caffeine
Caffeine and urinary continence (Gray). 2001;28:66–9 (Evidence-based Report Card)

Catheters, indwelling
Managing urinary encrustation in the indwelling catheter (Gray). 2001;28:226–9 (Evidence-based Report Card)

Chest tubes
Patient with a chest tube and Heimlich valve (Hanlon and Lochbaum). 2001;28:314–6 (Options in Practice)

Commentary
Multiple ostomy complications in a patient with Crohn's disease: a case study (Doughty). 2001;28:236–43
Special delivery: a biofeedback program for fecal incontinence (Zimarro Bliss). 2001;28:169–70

Compression therapy; see Bandages
Correction
Patients with existing pressure ulcers admitted to acute care (Williams et al) (2000;27:218). 2001;28:36

Crohn disease
Multiple ostomy complications in a patient with Crohn's disease: a case study (Parascandolo). 2001;28:236–43

Cystectomy
Orthotopic neobladder following cystectomy: indications, management, and outcomes (Krupski and Theodorescu). 2001;28:37–46

D

Databases
A blueprint for our society: the windmill (McNichol). 2001;28:259–60 (President's Message)

Decubitus ulcer
Care of an obese patient with a pressure ulcer (Murphy and Gallagher). 2001;28:171–6 (Options in Practice)
Pain measurement scales: a comparison of the Visual Analogue and Faces Rating Scales in measuring pressure ulcer pain (Freeman et al). 2001;28:290–6

Diabetes mellitus
A critical review of the literature: part I: diagnosing osteomyelitis in patients with diabetes and foot ulcers (Bonham). 2001;28:73–88
A critical review of the literature: part II: antibiotic treatment of osteomyelitis in patients with diabetes and foot ulcers (Bonham). 2001;28:141–9

Diarrhea
Reliability of a stool consistency classification system (Zimarro Bliss et al). 2001;28:305–13

Diet
Dietary choices of people with ostomies (Floruta). 2001;28:28–31

Drainage
Patient with a chest tube and Heimlich valve (Hanlon and Lochbaum). 2001;28:314–16 (Options in Practice)
Subscales, subscores, or summative score: evaluating the contribution of Braden Scale items for predicting pressure ulcer risk in older adults receiving home health care (Bergquist). 2001;28:279–89
Treatment of pressure ulcers with noncontact normothermic wound therapy: healing and warming effects (Whitney et al). 2001;28:244–52

Dressings; see Bandages
